

Radio Frequency Informed Consent

Customers Name _____ Date _____

Radio Frequency is a non-invasive cosmetic procedure to help smooth, tighten, contour skin and temporarily reduce the appearance of cellulite. It can help treat sagging skin, lack of definition in the jaw line, loose jowls, sagging neck skin, wrinkles and fine lines.

Radio Frequency uses electrical pulses to target and penetrate the underlayer of skin using heat to stimulate collagen. The outer layer of skin is cooled during the process to avoid damage. During procedure you will feel a brief deep heating sensation.

Results should be visible immediately and improve over a period of two to six months.

Treatment Sites include; Face, Area Surrounding Lip, Outer orbit area of the Eyes, Arms, Thighs, Tummy, Hands, Buttocks

Side effects are rare but can include swelling, redness, bumps, minor burns and blisters on or around the treated area

Alternative methods to Radio Frequency are Botox, Dermal Fillers, Laser and Surgery
